Markus Gebhart

Markus is a Berlin based Director of Photography.
He always loved stories with good style and humour. When he was twelve years old, he took his uncle's DV-Cam and shot the legendary action movie „The adventures of MG"
Ever since he tried to meet the standards of this masterpiece. At the Filmakademie Baden-Württemberg he got himself some more skills.
In his work he focuses on precise visual storytelling. His goal is to always find the perfect style to fit the needs of every story.
He love getting involved with projects from an early stage onwards to prep in close collaboration with the director and all creative departments.
