

Martim Condeixa
Director

Martim decided to become a director after taking a film workshop in high school.

As part of this workshop, he shot what we all know as a terrible short film. Unfortunately he took “TERRIBLE” to another level, by simultaneously casting himself as the main character and stunt.

As someone who enjoys a good laugh, his recent work shows him as a director with strong visual humor. However, as all enthusiasts, who like to laugh, he enjoys a story with a good emotional twist.

He loves to dance and appreciates great food and red wine. Essentially, he loves to spend hours at the table and considers himself to a filmBaker.