

Anastasja Black
Director

Anastasja Black is a multidisciplinary film director based in Berlin, Germany, specialized in fashion films and commercials.

Anastasja's journey in the film industry began in 2014 when she was a fashion student in London, where she filmed a series of lookbook videos for bloggers and fashion designers.

This moment inspired her to pursue her passion for film and study it in depth in Berlin.

She honed her skills in various departments, including camera, light, and postproduction, before eventually settling as a director.